Local News.

See "Local News" on Second Page.

FRANK MILLER, upon a charge of bastardy, preferred against him by Anna Miller, was held to bail for his appearance at Court, Thursday, in the sum of $500, by Justice Harris.

A man named Samuel Johnson was arrested and lodged in the Hammond-street Station-house, upon suspicion of having stolen $200 from a man on board one of the Pittsburgh packets.

A. P. A.—An address upon the principles of the American Protestant Association will be delivered this (Saturday) evening, by Nathan Nesbit, R. W. G. M., of the United States, at the Main-street Church, Covington, Ky. Seats free; front seats reserved for ladies.

THE REAL ESTATE SALES in this city Thursday amounted to $131,167, and including sundry joint claims and other transfers, which could not properly be reckoned as sales, the amount of money to be paid for property which Thursday changed hands will reach $160,000.

THE CECILIA SOCIETY, Thursday, at their concert, produced a work which, we believe, has never before been sung in the country, namely: Gade's Comata. This association numbers 265 members, and is in the most flourishing financial condition.

BOR FOUN DROWNED.—Coroner Carey, Thursday, held an inquest upon the body of an unknown boy, about fourteen years of age, which was found in the river, opposite the Washington Brewery, in the Third Ward. It seemed to have lain in the water four or five weeks, and had on a satinet roundabout, striped pants, stogy boots and knit undershirt. A verdict was rendered of accidental drowning.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS DEATH.—A man named James Fetterell, a few days ago, was found in what seemed to be a state of ebriety, at the corner of Walnut and Ninth streets; taken to the Ninth-street Station-house, and thence to his home on John street, above Court. Wednesday night the unfortunate man died; and upon examination, it was found that his skull had been so severely fractured as to have caused his death, when taken in connection with his habits, which were somewhat intemperate.

STREET Beggars ARRESTED.—Many of the fair pedestrians who, on sunny afternoons, through the sidewalks of Fourth street, will be pleased to learn that a party of beggars, with children and without them, have lately infested that thoroughfare, between Race and Vine, were arrested yesterday and lodged in the Station-house. Another party were sent from the Police Court to the City Prison yesterday morning; and if this plan be continued for a short time, we doubt not these specimens of the lazzaroni will soon seek a more congenial climate.

THE BALL GAME—ANOTHER VICTIM.—A man named Jethro Richards, who resides in this State, and who should return to his home and never again leave it, went to the Pearl-street Station-house yesterday, and explained to the officers there how he had been relieved of $50 by a couple of fellows whom he happened to meet on Front street, near the Gas-works. It seems that some time during the day he had exchanged, at one of the banks on Third street, $75 in Ohio Bank bills for gold, and had probably been watched by these fellows, who at length induced him to bet, and thus obtained two-thirds of it. He followed one of them, whom he described, to the river and saw him jump into a flat-boat, after which he disappeared and has not since been seen. It is hard to conceive of a sufficient degree of verdancy to make such an operation successful; still they occur almost every day, and always among parties who, one would think, were aware of the tricks of the "little joker."

COPYRIGHT TAKEN OUT.—A copyright was taken out in the United States Court Thursday, by James Riley, for a book called the Prophet-ies Explained, from which we take the following, as a specimen of the style. One might as well dive to the bottom of a mud-hole and expect to find clear water, as to expect to get an idea from the whole book, of which what follows is a fair sample: "Had this donkey world discernment and knowledge sufficient to qualify them to carry—here occurs a phrase that shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his life shall he slay the wicked, with all these prophetic scenes, models, substances and knowledge, have the power, through his will concentrated on them, to bring them about, and to reflect them into the minds of a world as he sees them, and to so daguerotype them on their minds till they see, reflect and act on them as he desires; just as his mind made the prophets see, act, think and reflect on these scenes as the Messiah at them would with his senses on."

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

In Room No. 1, before Judge Spencer, the argument was concluded in the case of Joseph Elms v. Jacob Elms and others.
Judge Stor and Ghoslen were engaged in closing up the business of the term. This day (Saturday) will be Judge Ghoslen's last day on the bench.

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT.

Before JUDGES MALLOX, CAYLER and DICKSON—Theophilus Wilson, administrator of Samuel Wilson, deceased, vs. William S. Merrill and others. This suit was brought to set aside the will of David Wilson, on the ground that the testator was insane. The case was argued by John H. James, of Urbana, and John W. Caldwell, for plaintiff; and by Judge Tilden for defense. It is under advisement.

PROBATE COURT.

John Snyder was before the Court for the purpose of inquiring into his condition of mind, which is supposed to have become unsound. At intervals he becomes very much excited. The floorboards by which he was cutting up on the street in a way unlike a sane man, jumping on to drays, and striking horses and men whenever he came across them. When taken up the "nippers" had to be put on before he could be taken to the Station-house.
When the paroxysm is over, he becomes rational and quiet. It has been found difficult to account for his insanity, as he is not supposed to have been of imperfect habits. He states himself that a year ago last summer he had a sun-stroke, and it is since that he has changed in his manner. He had been a native of Germany, and has been in Cincinnati since 1844, engaged principally in the business of porting and business houses, and sometimes worked as a shoemaker. He was sent to the Asylum at Lick-run.

MEETING OF THE HISTORICAL AND PHILO-SOPHICAL SOCIETY OF OHIO.—An adjourned meeting of the above-named Society was held Thursday afternoon at their rooms on Seventh street, near Vine.
